

Think Pair share

In think-pair-share strategy the teacher acts as a facilitator, and gives a question or a problem to the students.

Students are paired as team and expected to find a solution to the problem and understand the topic.

Exchange of ideas between students enhances the learning. This helps the students to think in different perspectives.